

Dear Friends,

Where did November go? I find it hard to believe that we are almost in Advent, a time of hope.

Next week we will be starting the Advent Course “Light in the Darkness” and all the details are attached. If you think it looks daunting and you are not used to using Zoom, don’t panic! Please ask for help because it isn’t as difficult as it looks. Do think about joining in, even if you don’t normally go to a small group. If you would like to follow the course but are not able to go online Jane Lawry can let you have a paper copy if you contact her – 2367566.

SCAM WARNING! This week some people have received an email supposedly from Ali saying that she needed help urgently and to email them back. Please check the email address and if it is not totleyassociate@gmail.com please delete it as it is not from her.

This Sunday is the last one in lockdown so the cleaners will be going in to clean the church building on Wednesday and we can resume services in church on the 6th December. We need to remember that we are still in tier 3 and will have to continue with all the precautions like mask wearing, hand sanitising, keeping records for track and trace etc. The recorded service will continue to be available on the website.

Finally, now we have purchased a full zoom licence, this week we can try having an online coffee and catch up after the service on Sunday from 10.45 for an hour, or however long people want to chat.
